Subject: Mark Jaben and Sarah Banks Marriage License. Another email dialog.

Another email from Mark Jaben. I would have thought by now Ira Dove (who is a lawyer) would have advised Mark Jaben not to even attempt to engage with me via email. There is only one possible outcome for Mark Jaben. Yet, it seems that Mark Jaben is a gluten for punishment, with another email from this guy. It would appear to me at this point that he, along with Sarah Henderson/Banks are desperately attempting to extricate themselves from the meeting they, standing shoulder to shoulder, at the 2/6/2023 county commission meeting, committed to attend.

[Editor's Note: It was Sarah Henderson's name on Agenda item #1 at the 2/6/2023 county commission meeting, not Sarah Banks. But we will get to the bottom of that in this piece.]

Same drill as before. I will underline area's of Mark Jaben's email that I find faulty or have disagreement with, and respond with my comments being in bold red.

Here we go...

From: Mark J. Jaben <Mark.Jaben@haywoodcountync.gov>
To: Monroe Miller, Ira Dove <ira.dove@haywoodcountync.gov>, Sarah Banks <Sarah.Banks@haywoodcountync.gov>
CC: Terry Ramey <Terry.Ramey@haywoodcountync.gov>, Bryant Morehead <Bryant.Morehead@haywoodcountync.gov>, Thomas A. Long <Tommy.Long@haywoodcountync.gov>, Brandon C. Rogers <brandon.rogers@haywoodcountync.gov>, Jennifer Best <Jennifer.Best@haywoodcountync.gov>

Mr. Miller,

Can you clarify as to why you are sending a copy of a marriage license to me and 4 of the 5 BOCC as well as others, as well as what this has to do with arranging a meeting?

Mark Jaben, MD

[Editor's Note: Notice that nothing has been underlined in Mark Jaben's email, but Mark Jaben just opened Pandora's Box (much like Jennifer Best did) with this question.]

[Editor's Note: Sarah Banks marriage license follows on the next page, and my response begins after that.]

Here we go...

Can you clarify as to why you are sending a copy of a marriage license to me and 4 of the 5 BOCC as well as others, as well as what this has to do with arranging a meeting?

Say Mark,

Can I call you Mark? I may be jumping the gun a little bit here, but I am anticipating a lovely meeting to take place, once everyone agrees on a specific date, time and location, as we had done before for the 2/22/2023 meeting before Sarah Banks punched out, and we will all be smiling when we leave.

Let me know if this is okay, otherwise, I can go back to addressing you as Mark Jabben.

Dissecting your “Guest Column’s”, Letters to the Editor and your emails is reminiscent of going back to my high school days in Biology when I dissected my first frog. Now, I am dissecting a duck (i.e., quack). It keeps the mind sharp.

I don’t know if you are aware, but I am now posting responses to your “Guest Column’s”, Letters to the Editor and emails directly on my website. The reach now is far greater than simply the folks you refer to in your question to me. In fact, this reminds me of a funny incident while Rusty McLean was taking a deposition from me a while ago in his office [re: recording], and the object of the deposition turned to interactions between him and I. He asked about my Blog, and I corrected him, indicating it was a website. He seems astonished and finally said, “You mean people can see this in South Africa?”

So, Mark, when I sent my response to your last email and put it on my website, people in South Africa, along with a good portion of Haywood County, are looking at it. So I hope that you can appreciate that when I put something on my website, the information has to be bullet proof. I have to get names right, and that includes clarifying distinctions between Sarah Henderson and Sarah Banks. Again, a slight digression, Google occasionally scours my website for information for their search engines. For example, late in February, Google pulled over 20Gbytes of data from www.haywoodtp.net at a single shot, more than was accessed during the entire month of January. I decided to see how good their process was, so I searched Google for “Sarah Henderson” and guess whose name popped up? Yours.

By the way, there are two county employees that will never appear on my copy list: David Francis, and Kevin “Adjudication” Ensley.

So you must imagine my confusion in your email to me dated 3/6/2023, when you all of a sudden put Sarah Banks on your copy list, instead of Sarah Henderson.

Who is Sarah Banks? Certainly no explanation from you. Did Sarah Henderson get divorced and go back to her prior name? Did she get married? No one in Haywood County besides you and maybe some other county employees knew who this was. In order to get to the bottom of this, I requested information about Sarah Henderson from the Register of Deeds, and voilà, the marriage license popped up.

So, Mark, now that we have this, we can relate this license to what is going on in Haywood County, and make a little time line, so to speak.

2/2/2023

Date of marriage between Sarah Mae Henderson and Andrew Keith Banks.

2/6/2023

County commission meeting, you and Sarah “Henderson” made the presentation before commissioners, with the name on the agenda item being Sarah “Henderson”.

2/14/2023

Sarah “Henderson” responds to my Request for Public Information, and signs her name as:

Sarah

2/22/2023

Sarah “Henderson” punches of the agreed upon meeting between you, Ira Dove, Terry Ramey (+4).

3/6/2023

You mysteriously copy Sarah Banks to your email to me.

So if I am confused, can you imagine everyone else’s confusion with Sarah Henderson versus Sarah Banks? I hope you can see that my posting Sarah Bank’s marriage license clears this mystery up.

Still waiting for you to have Ira Dove and Bryant Morehead to clarify you statement that “Ira Dove did not demand the venue.”, and, since you seem to be providing communication for Sarah Banks and Ira Dove, when the next suggestion for a meeting date will be, and we sure want to make sure Sarah Banks is in agreement. Then, Terry Ramey can coordinate these new proposed dates with the folks that will be joining him in the meeting. Again, Bryant Morehead is welcome to attend based on his position as county manager, but not as a person joining the conversation at the meeting.
